feb 5 to apr 29, 2012

The Hobbit Hole was a top secret lair for hobbits, dwarves, elves, faeries, and their friends. It was located across the street from frankenart mart for an unspecified number of decades, until it was cruelly demolished to make way for an ugly condo. There is a Mayan rumor that the Hobbit Hole was not completely destroyed but went underground and that it will rise again for the months of February, March and April, 2012, in a nearby storefront.

*If you think you can aid the secret resurrection of the Hobbit Hole in anyway (see above list), please contact frankenart@gmail.com. There will be a conspiratorial gathering to unite forces and sacrifice hot dogs on Feb 5 at an undisclosed location from 1 to 6pm. Secret knock and cloak required to enter.
